

OFF FOR BOSTON.

Portland City Fathers Will Play Return Game of Ball, With Boston City Fathers.

This morning, at 7 o'clock, the members of the Portland City Government will leave for Boston, where they will stay at the American House and be the guests of the Boston City government during their two days' visit. This will be the make-up of the Portland party: Mayor Baxter, Aldermen Fred Haley, John B. Kehoe, Zenas Thompson, W. E. Howell, J. T. Fagan and A. P. Leighton, Councilmen Wilson Sprague, J. T. Johnston, J. E. Henley, E. E. Brown, W. H. Dow, S. A. Stone, J. A. Pine, J. H. McDonald, W. H. Doughty, W. E. Bryson, T. A. Flaherty, J. L. Corey, T. H. Johnson, Rufus Lamson, E. N. Mayberry, J. F. A. Merrill; City Clerk Dyer; City Solicitor Chapman; Commissioner of Public Works Fernald; Street Superintendent Staples; Assessors Fox, Lefavor and Hallett; W. C. McCann of Board of Registration; Liquor Agent Douglas; Deputy Marshal Hart; Auditor Sanborn; Mayor Libby, of the Portland Harbor Co.; Landscape Gardener Blaisdell, of Riverton Park; W. C. Whelden, representative to the legislature; Chief Engineer Eldridge, of the Fire Department; Park Commissioner Smith; ex-Alderman Randall; D. B. Smith, manager Riverton Casino and ex-Judge Gould of the Municipal court. The banquet will be given at the American House this evening.

A Service of Song.

At the Second Parish church Sunday evening there was a delightful song service. The church was crowded up and down stairs. The music was fine, as was naturally to be expected from the high class talent engaged. The opening trio for organ and two violins was admirably rendered by Mr. Sanglier, Miss Bertha Webb and Mr. W. T. Cousens. The Ave Maria was beautifully sung. The soprano solo with violin obligato by Mr. Cousens, was a marked feature. Schnecker's Cantata Dominus was well sung. Miss Bertha Webb played a most entrancing solo during the offertory, and the closing anthem, "Jerusalem," with solo by Miss Brown, was a fitting end to a most enjoyable evening. Rev. Mr. Haek took for the text of his sermon God's Love, and illustrated it by the shepherd and his flock. The music was furnished by Miss Lizzie Brown, soprano; Mrs. Jennie King Morrison, and Miss L. M. Jordan, alto; tenor, Frank L. Gray; bass, Mr. Charles Baker. Mr. Sanglier was the organist and director, and Miss Webb and Mr. Cousens the violinists.

Maine State Sunday School Convention on. The twenty-eighth annual convention of the Maine State Sunday School Association, inter-denominational, will be held at Saco, Oct. 13, 14 and 15, commencing Tuesday afternoon and closing Thursday noon.

The engagement of that strong and sterling worker, Rev. Smith Baker, D. D., as conductor of the convention is of itself a sufficient guaranty of the success of the meeting. Addresses will be given by President Gallagher, of the Maine Wesleyan Seminary, by Rev. A. Trueblood, of Watford, and by Prof. Hamill, of national reputation as a Normal leader, while N. S. Greer, of Somerville, Mass., a brilliant talker, will give not less than two of his attractive exercises, one of which illustrates the lesson for October 18. On Wednesday evening, besides other exercises there will be given by Rev. H. F. Wood, of Bath, a delightful and instructive lecture on Jerusalem, with illustrations by stereopticon.

The department of Primary Work will be conducted by Mrs. W. J. Knowlton, of Portland, a favorite with Sunday school people, and Miss Alice May Douglas will arrange a special exhibition of appliances for aid and attractiveness in this important line of teaching. The official board has drawn upon our best home talent for the different sections of the programme and they have confident hopes of unusual success for this anniversary.

The invitation sent out by Saco and Biddeford with proffer of free hospitalities, is of the heartiest tone. Each school is entitled to representation by pastor, superintendents and other delegates. Reduced fare will be given by all railway and steamboat lines. For hospitalities, address, as early as possible, E. Garland, Saco, chairman entertainment committee. Rev. B. P. Snow is State Secretary.

The Sewer Question in Deering.

To the Editor of the Press: The question of building the proposed sewer for that part of the City of Deering in the immediate vicinity of Oak street, has been the subject of considerable controversy, also one which has had but one side of the matter given to the public, that of its opponents.

The residents of a part of Stevens Plains avenue have for some time past been trying to have a sewer built whereby a section, including the Westbrook sanitary, could avail themselves of a privilege to which they think they are entitled and which the Board of Aldermen do not deny is a necessity.

A petition was accordingly presented to the board for the construction of a sewer including a large territory than was at first contemplated, but meeting at Forest avenue and connecting at the foot of Pleasant street with the sewer now in use, the outlet to which is near the power house at Winslow Point; a remonstrance was presented against this, one objection strongly urged being that the building of that part of the proposed sewer between Oak and the foot of Pleasant street would involve an outlay of some $10,000 on account of a large ledge which it would have to pass through and a large amount of filling would be required also; one of the remonstrants who spoke at a hearing given by the board previous to any action being taken on the petition, a resident of the locality, said they did not want any sewer; they had no sewage water and no need of a sewer; the water company would not lay their pipes through there on account of the expense that would be incurred in blasting through the ledge and he thought the City of Deering should not be put to an expense there was no need of; the aldermen seemed to think so also for the petitioners were given leave to withdraw.

The need for the sewer still existed however and a petition for a sewer commissioning at Oak street on Stevens Plains avenue, thence along Stevens Plains avenue to Maple Street, down Maple street to Forest avenue, along Forest avenue to and connecting with the sewer already in operation on Oak street, was presented and voted favorably upon by the aldermen, the chairman and one member of the committee on sewers opposing; the section thus included by the proposed sewer does not include all of Morrill's corner as many were led to believe.

The reason given for the opposition is, that the plan of the sewer as proposed is not in conformity with a plan for a system of sewerage for the entire city of Deering, laid out at a previous time, according to which the proposed sewer should connect at the foot of Pleasant street with the one already constructed passing along Forest avenue; this plan was embodied in the petition first presented and which the petitioners were given leave to withdraw.

The Mayor in an elaborate document, introducing letters from several engineers, tending to show that the plan of the proposed sewer was not in accordance with the only plan for the system of sewerage for the entire city, already referred to, and which the petitioners had the construction of the sewer. The Board of Commissioners were interviewed to see if the authority vested in them by the State was not sufficient to have them forbid the building of the sewer, in fact no stone was left unturned that would serve as a block to its construction.

An order for drawing of plans, etc., for the building of the sewer was passed over the Mayor's veto, the same five members of the board as before, voting in the affirmative; in justice to them we are convinced that they were actuated by the desire to provide a temporary relief for what is a recognized necessity, until the city was ready to make an outlay of some $10,000 which at the present time they were unable for; in their own minds they were all in sight.

The plan as proposed does not interfere with the carrying out, at any time in the future, of the only correct plan for sewerage of the entire city upon which the Mayor's signature is laid; at any time the connection through Forest avenue from Oak to foot of Pleasant street can be made.

The chairman of committee on sewers still declined to make any move towards building the sewer on the ground that the order as passed was not legal without the Mayor's signature; this position is not tenable; the order being passed over his veto made it legal without his signature.

At the last meeting of the board an attempt was made to have a special committee appointed to build the sewer, but it was defeated; perhaps after we have an epidemic of typhoid fever such as was required to bring the town of Brunswick to its senses and cause them to build their present sewer system, or perhaps here, the experience which knowledge at present seems to be having from the same cause, lack of sewerage, it may be found that individual theories, legal points, etc., are secondary to the public welfare.

Maine Industry.

From Commissioner Matthews of the bureau of industrial and labor statistics there comes reports from all kinds of industries. But think of the firm that does a chewing gum business of over $50,000 in one year and that concern located down here in Maine. This concern returns the following: Makes a specialty of chewing gums, capital invested, $38,000; cost of material for the year ending June 30, 1896, $35,405.34; value of product of the factory that year, $53,482.45; employees on an average, 40 hands—25 women, 10 children under 16 years of age and 5 men, and paid in wages, $7,488.15.

The Kennebec Steamboat Company will build a new boat the coming winter for winter travel between Bath and Boston, and to be used also in connection with the Sagadahoc and Kennebec during the summer rush of business. The Bath Times has the following to say about it: It is announced today, by President Drake, that the Kennebec Steamboat Company will build a new twin screw steamer for carrying freight and passengers between Bath and Boston during the winter. The boat will be built by a Bath concern, possibly by the New England Ship Building Company and the Bath Iron Works, but all Bath builders who are able to do the work, will be given a chance to bid. The new boat will be a beauty. She will be thoroughly up to date in every respect and a flyer.

Soreness
Stiffness
Swellings

Painful inflamed parts tender to the touch, rigid joints and muscles, wounds and diseases which cause the flesh to burn, blisters, cuts, chaps, cracks, chilblains, deafness, pimples, stings, scalds, strains, sprains, aches, pains or lameness anywhere, are soothed and quickly relieved by this wonderful Anodyne. It is the best remedy in the world for asthma, bronchitis, bleeding lungs, colds, coughs, catarrh, colic, croup, chills, cramps, cholera morosa, cholera infantum, chronic diarrhoea, hoarseness, headache, heartburn, whooping cough, influenza, irritations, inflammations, toothache, tonsillitis, h. grippé, sore throat, sore lips and chaps, bowels or kidney pains. It is a marvelous how many different complaints and diseases it cures. All who use it are amazed at its power and are loud in its praise ever after.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Over 25 years the demand for it has steadily increased. It has been tried in the old fashioned, noble hearted Family Physician. It has stood on its own intrinsic merit, while generation after generation has used it with entire satisfaction and transmitted the knowledge of its worth to their children a valuable inheritance. It is used and recommended by surgeons and physicians everywhere. It is the best, the oldest, the original. It is unlike any other. It is superior to any other. Be not afraid to trust what time has endorsed. All athletes use and endorse it. Every Mother should have it in the house, dropped on sugar suffering children love to take it. It is the great vital and muscle nerve. Its electric energy everlastingly eradicates inflammation. I have used your Anodyne Liniment during the past few years for removing stiffness from the muscles after long rides and have never found anything so effective. I have also used it very successfully for muscular rheumatism. J. J. FERRY, Resident Roxbury Bicycle Club. Well known bicycle rider.

PEARY'S PARTY RETURNS.

His Successful Summer's Work in Greenland.

He is Bringing Two Live Polar Bears and 100 Cases of Specimens for the American Museum of Natural History—Much Scientific Work Done on the West Coast.

(New York Sun.)

Sydney, Cape Breton, Sept. 26.—The steamer Hope, with my party on board, arrived here at 10.40 a. m. today. I send to The Sun a brief statement of our summer's work.

On our way to Greenland, after leaving Turnavik, Labrador, the Hope steamed north along the coast, encountering much heavy ice. We passed an American whaling bark off the Four Peaks and were detained once off Cape Chidley, at the entrance to Hudson Strait by ice. We obtained three polar bears here, two of them being captured alive, and we are bringing them home.

We entered Hudson Strait and reached Ashe Inlet, on the north side, on July 25. The country in the neighborhood was examined, and Assistant Putnam of the Coast and Geodetic Survey made pendulum and magnetic observations. We visited a village of Hudson Bay Eskimos, and obtained a kayak and costumes.

Leaving Hudson Strait we forced a passage through the ice, rounded Resolution Island (on the north side of Hudson Strait) on July 29, and on the following day attempted to enter Cumberland Sound (Baffin Land), but were prevented by heavy ice.

We then bore away for Godhavn, Disco Island, Greenland, arriving there on Aug. 2. Magnetic observations were made here. Then we steamed to Atanik Island and the mainland, and landed Mr. George Bartlett and his party to collect fossils. Thence we went to Omakak (the next large indentation to the north), from where Prof. Burton of Boston and his party were landed for their summer's work. Then we proceeded to Upernivik to obtain Eskimo hunters for Prof. Tarr. The next stop was at Wilcox Head in Melville Bay, where Prof. Tarr and his party were landed early on Aug. 7 for their summer's work.

Melville Bay was crossed in spite of ice and fog in twenty-four hours. A large polar bear was killed on the way. We arrived on Aug. 8 at Cape York, found a few native there, and learned the sad news that a visitation of influenza had killed twenty-eight of the native tribe, 11 per cent of their entire number. We learned also that Anniversary Lodge, my second house in northwest Greenland, had been burned. "Our Center of Gravity," Rev. Charles Henry Wells, Belfast, "What We Ought to Teach," Rev. A. B. Hervey, Ph. D.

There was much ice east of Cape York in Melville Bay, and so the Hope steamed north and visited the various settlements, obtaining costumes, sledges, coats, implements, weapons, dogs, &c., and making casts, photographs, and measurements of the interest. Two or three days were devoted to walrus hunting and a large number of specimens were secured, also a number of reindeers, porwial, white whales, seals, &c. The bird cliffs were visited, and a series of Arctic gibbets in all stages of growth was obtained. Howden Bay and the site of Annerlyns had been visited.

The lodge was burned by the carelessness of old Atunginah, an Eskimo witch. We also visited Igilmut, or great fire stone of the Eskimo. In a large number of pyrites fragments of iron, for years, have served these natives as flint and steel for lighting their fires. A few of the villages we saw "Miss Bill," the little Eskimo girl whom Mrs. Peary brought to the United States for a year. She is now a matron with an estate. Steaming north again, an attempt to reach Cape Sabine was prevented by much heavy ice that filled Smith Sound. The light of Polar House where a part of the Hall expedition wintered was visited, and also Cape Foulke, Dr. Hayes's winter quarters, where the "disorderly grave" of Captain Hayes's astronomer, was rebuilt and the headstone re-erected.

Returning to Cape York on Aug. 23, the ice had broken up enough to allow the Hope to penetrate into Melville Bay and reach the site of the large meteorite. We were fortunate in effecting a landing, but two of the hydraulic jacks were crippled and rendered useless in tearing the iron monster from its frozen bed. A third failed a few days later, and moving the meteorite then became so slow that before it could be hauled, the Hope was compelled by the ice to retreat on Sept. 3.

Another large bear was seen on the summit of an iceberg and killed. We left Cape York on Sept. 4, and after three days of fog reached Wilcox Head on the 7th, and found Prof. Tarr and his party all well and much valuable work accomplished. We took them on board, touched at Upernivik and landed natives reached Omakak on the 9th, found Prof. Burton and party well and with extensive results from their five weeks work, received them on board, proceeded to Atanik Island and embarked Bartlett and his party and several tons of fossils, and then went to Godhavn, where the Hope was trimmed for the homeward voyage. Crossing Davis Strait to Cumberland Sound, we encountered a heavy ice, lost a boat and some minor articles, and were caught in the ice off Cape Mercy (north side of Cumberland Sound) and held for two days and a half. We reached Nanilik whaling station (on the north side of Cumberland Sound) on Sept. 17. Each of the Scotch and American stations in this vicinity have killed a whale this season.

This good fortune was offset by the loss of three men, Capt. Timothy F. Pillsbury, killed by the Rev. J. C. Parker of Ware, England; Mr. Alexander Hall of Peterhead, Scotland, and four natives, by the capsize of a whaler on Aug. 11. We anchored in the winter harbor, where Mr. Putnam made magnetic and pendulum observations. Then we embarked the whaler from the American station, about a ton. Mr. Jensen and the Rev. Mr. Peck, an English missionary to the sound, were both desirous of a passage home, which was granted. Mr. Jensen, on a winter sledge trip to Frobenier Bay (south of Cumberland Sound), found and brought out the "Polar bear" which was killed by Hall. This presented to me.

We obtained Kayak costumes, &c., of the Cumberland Sound natives and sailed away on the morning of Sept. 16. We had favorable winds the entire distance, and the voyage to Sydney was made in seven days.

The past winter in Greenland has been one of unusual severity, and the summer has been marked by much wind and an unusual amount of exceptionally heavy rain, particularly along the west coast. The entire west coast, from Quarnvik Island, Labrador, to Cape Sabine, north Greenland, was blocked by a wide barrier of ice till late in August. Yet, in spite of the ice and weather, the experience of seven seasons in these northern waters, combined with a staunch and suitable ship and Capt. Bartlett's unerring ice instinct and the level-headedness and prudence which in the Panther in 1890 won Hayes and Bradford's highest admiration, have enabled us to complete the voyage without mishap on the proposed time schedule.

The chairman of the board of directors, Mr. Morris K. Jessup, enrich the collections of the American Museum of Natural History with much valuable material.

"SHE DRESSES WELL."

But Her Clothes Often Cover a Living Death.

Beauty Is the Shrine of Men's Worship, and Women Vie With Each Other to Make Themselves Attractive.

The remark, "She dresses elegantly," is a very common one in this age of wealth and progress.

Women vie with each other in making themselves attractive, for men admire a stylishly dressed woman.

Good clothes add to the charms of the woman in perfect health, but are ill-befitting those who through ignorance or carelessness have suffered the inroads of female diseases to stamp them as physical wrecks. It is unfortunate, but true, that some physicians allow women to suffer needlessly, because man can only work from theory, and at best only patch up, without removing the cause.

Proof is abundant that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removes the cause, gives strength to the weakened organs, vigorous health to the system, and therefore beauty to the face and form.

Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., gladly answers, free of charge all letters.

Here is one of the results:

"Three months ago, I wrote you a letter describing my troubles, which were inflammation of the womb and bladder. I had not seen a well day since the birth of my second child, 16 years ago. I had spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and medicines.

"Such pains as I endured. My back ached, my feet and limbs were swollen, and it was almost impossible for me to stand; I could not walk any distance. I received your answer to my letter, and followed closely all your advice, and I have been using Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound for three months. Now I can work all day without pain. I have recommended the Compound to many of my friends, and gladly recommend it to all women in any way afflicted with female troubles."—LYDIA BATES, 227 Spring St., Greensburg, Pa.

ate him for work for a long time. He was at Union station and slipped from his cart, striking heavily on the rails. One ankle was badly sprained. He was taken to his home in a carriage and a physician summoned.

National Election, Tuesday, Nov. 3.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT,
William McKinley
OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
Garret A. Hobart
OF NEW JERSEY.

Now that Mr. Bryan has been to church with Sewall he ought to go to church with Tom Watson.

Mr. Bryan's assurance that the Democratic party of the nation has no complaint to make against the Democrats of Maine ought to be very consolatory to the latter.

What a fine time Tom Watson will have on the fourth of November shouting "I told you so"—if he does not wear his voice out complimenting Sewall before that date.

The Boston Journal says the chief purpose of Bryan's visit to New England was to help Williams. It looks as though the help he will give Williams will be just about as valuable as the help Williams has given him in New England. How valuable that has been the elections in Vermont and Maine sufficiently show.

There are no more signs of anything being done for the relief of the Armenians than there were a year ago. Indeed the demand for interference was then far more general than it is at present. The trouble is the same now that it has ever been—no single power dares interfere for fear of precipitating a general war while concerted action is impossible because Russia is playing a waiting game and wants nothing done to change the status quo at present.

Senator Hill's fine scheme for preserving regularity by running a "Janus," as the New York Sun puts it, for governor has failed on account of the lack of nerve of his puppet, John Boyd Thacher. It was a pretty disgraceful scheme, and seems to have found no favor with anybody but Hill who was its inventor. The silver men would not support Thacher unless he swallowed the whole Chicago platform, and the gold men would not in any event; so that the candidate bade fair to be left without any support that prospect of such loneliness as that was too much for him.

MR. SEWALL'S DEMAGOGUERY.

The Hon. Arthur Sewall has been so long and so well known by the people of Maine that they are not likely to be deceived by any acting or posing on his part. They have known him as a rich and aristocratic citizen of Bath, who has been prominently identified with many large corporations whose principal business, according to Mr. Bryan, has been the robbing of the poor man. Until recently he was the President of a Marine Association, organized largely for the purpose of getting the government to impose a discriminating duty on foreign ships with a view to increasing the profits of American ships of which Mr. Sewall is supposed to be a large owner. He was President of the Maine Central railroad when the wages of the employees of that corporation were cut down on account of the depression in business, and though somebody in a Washington paper has tried to relieve him of all connection with that reduction by charging it upon Mr. George M. Pullman and Mr. Richard Olney, all the evidence goes to show that he never thought of absolving himself until his connection with a Presidential ticket, the head of which was posing as the special friend of labor and the special enemy of trusts and syndicates, made it seem necessary to clear his throat so as to be able to sing the same song as the boy orator of the Platte.

There was nothing in his public record up to a recent period which was discreditable to him. In fact it was in many ways creditable. The discredit began when he undertook to disguise his true self, and indulge in the pretense that he was the special friend of labor. That his heart was wrung at the miseries of the poor, and that his reason for espousing the cause of free silver was a desire to lift up the tolling masses. Hypocrisy is always discreditable, and nobody who has known Mr. Sewall will believe that this pretense is anything but hypocrisy. The leopard cannot change his spots, nor the Ethiopian his skin, and it is far beyond the bounds of probability that a man who has lived 60 or 70 years without manifesting any special sympathy with the tolling masses suddenly and sincerely should become their special champion. It is true that St. Paul was changed from a persecutor of Christians to an ardent disciple of that faith in an instant, but St. Paul was struck by divine lightning, which had power to change his heart. So far as appears Mr. Sewall has never been struck by this kind of lightning. Various motives are assigned for Mr. Sewall's espousal of free silver, but no human being but himself has ever assigned devotion to the cause of the tolling masses, and never will. Mr. Sewall should let Mr. Bryan do all the demagoguery business. Bryan's demagoguery has the appearance at least of sincerity. Mr. Sewall's is very bungling and provokes only ridicule.

CURRENT COMMENT.

THE YALE STUDENTS AND BRYAN.

(New York Sun.)
Gen. Alexander S. Webb, the President of our free city college, says, in a letter to a Republican newspaper, that if the reports of the demonstration by the Yale students, when Bryan spoke on the New Haven Green, are accurate, "the affair is a disgrace to the whole nation." "I cannot believe," he adds, "that American gentlemen's sons would be guilty of such distinctly and outrageously vulgar conduct."

We have read carefully all the reports of the proceedings of the Yale students which were published in reputable newspapers of New York, and we cannot find in them any justification whatever for the language of Gen. Webb. They agree in their statements of the main facts, and therefore it may be assumed that they are accurate. In Gen. Webb's opinion, accordingly, they afford just ground for denouncing the conduct of these young men as disgraceful to themselves and the nation.

What did these students really do? On the day that Yale University opened its new college year, Bryan came to New Haven and stayed at the hotel of which the Green, adjacent to the centre of the university life, in a town of which the greatest in the great city is a distinguishing feature. The students gathered in strong force, as was natural. Practically, they were on their own ground, they expressed their feelings against repudiation with the vigor and voicefulness of youth; and they had a right to do it. They ought to have done it, and they did it, and to what they gave utterance was honorable to them. The boys made a great noise, cheering for McKinley and yelling and jeering at repudiation, and Mr. Bryan could not be heard for several minutes. If they had applauded him incessantly for even a full hour, would there have been any complaint on their preventing him from starting out in his speech? Has not a crowd in the open air as much right to hiss as to cheer? At what point in our history was that privilege taken from Americans?

These dissenting students, the reports agree, did not offer any personal violence to Mr. Bryan or anybody else. They did not throw rotten eggs at him or otherwise assail his dignity; but merely shouted their college cry and yelled derisively. They did not like the cause the speaker represented. They detested and despised both it and him; and they made known their feeling noisily. Gen. Webb says that "the position of nominating a candidate for the Presidency of this great republic carries with it the right to respect from all citizens, no matter what party the candidate may belong to, or what may be his political creed." But it carries with it no such right. No one, candidate for President or anybody else, is entitled to respect unless he deserves it, and the answer is true of a political creed. Would a free-love or an out-and-out Anarchist candidate deserve respect? Should a candidate for the Presidency of the United States be a traitor to American freedom, be received with honor simply because he is a candidate? Gen. Webb talks aright; but the President of the University of an American college and an instructor of American youth!

When Mr. Bryan began his speech he proceeded to name these students by insulting their fathers. Would they not have been contemptible fellows if they had not resented his words with all the force of expression in the language of which they were capable? Treat such a man with respect? It would have been disgraceful to them if they had kept their silence. If it had a right to respect they not an equal right to respond? There was no obligation of courtesy preventing them from uttering their indignation and their dissent. He offered himself for criticism and he has no reason to complain because he got it.

The Yale students did right. They may have been boisterous beyond the measure of decency, after the fashion of college boys; but the spirit animating them was wholly honorable, wholly commendable. Their fathers have good reason to be proud of such sons. When Gen. Webb calls their conduct "distasteful and outrageous" he proves himself to be a man of no quality. He is a college president and an exemplar for youth, and not they, deserve the reproach of his unjustifiable letter.

The Yale students' detest repudiation, and all honor to them for the feeling. When they came forth from their little college world into the broad world of society, they will make good citizens. They will fitly sustain the burden of duty to the republic when, in the cruel and relentless order of nature, it must be transferred to their shoulders by their fathers.

WHOOPING 'ER UP IN GREAT SHAPE.

(The Columbian.)
Congratulations, Mr. Frank. There were over 30,000 "Anarchists" who stood by the old flag.—The Columbian.

patrics are, today, fighting for liberty; and the flag under which the honesty, conscience and heart of this country are, now, under the leadership of Wm. J. Bryan, fighting the battle of man against money, of worth against wealth, of justice to all against special privileges to corrupt combinations, true and syndicates, of honest and fair methods against those of that politician, Mark Hanna, of a man who has convictions and the courage and manliness to express them, against a man who dares not open his mouth until his owner has told him what to say.

The Public Conscience.

To the Editor of the Press:
The present political agitation in our country, in some of its most important aspects, seems to me to demand the best expressed judgment and counsel of our wisest moral philosophers.

That the situation along the lines of the currency question and the maintenance of the supreme court unimpairing is one of great seriousness and gravity no thoughtful person can deny.

The most of our leading statesmen, Democratic and Republican, denounce these issues as set forth by the Chicago platform as "dishonest," "fraudulent," "corrupt," "anarchistic," "a disgrace to the nation impairing its honor and credit."

A very large majority of our best educated journalists have expressed similar judgment in their very emphatic editorials. Business men, honest and non-partisan, are everywhere recognizing such a condition. Even the banker and business man who said on Boston Common last Friday, "This fight is between the people on one side, the producers of wealth, the defenders of our country, against the prosperous classes,—the moneyed powers and their allies in Europe. There are only two parties today, one for the people, one for the producer, one for the labor of this country; the other for the gold standard which is behind the intrenchments where you will find all the trusts, all the monopolies, all the enemies of the people," by his very experience and environment, manifesting an opposite position, just speaks for a mighty common conviction toward himself, for well we know he is enveloped in a monopoly which brings in large returns and is connected with institutions (which are condemned by the Chicago platform) which he has subscribed to and as he admits are "the enemies of the people."

Most of the highest literary ability in our country have declared judgment against the above mentioned articles of the Chicago platform. We know that both Mr. Bryan and McKinley are members of the one great Christian family. Their disposition and present attitude have been assailed. The one has been termed an "anarchist" by some of his most influential brethren, the other a "fighter" against the best interests of the masses of his own country. The condition of this family seems to be morally and deplorably bad and the money wasted in the continuance of this antagonism, if otherwise and properly used would suppress very much of the present cry "hard times." Is it not the duty therefore, of moral teachers to assert their interest in the welfare of the people and in the present crisis to give them the best light they have in the ways of true, honorable and pure citizenship?

STATE TOPICS OF INTEREST.

The Waterville Mail recalls the good old days of ship building on the upper Kennebec, when the yards at Waterville, Winslow and Vassalboro turned out such ships as the Ticonderoga, the Hercules, the Native, the Superior and the Francis and Sarah. And the disastrous voyage of the steamer City of Waterville from its home port to Augusta, a few years ago, is the chief and almost the only nautical event of that part of the river during the last decade. But then they didn't have pulp mills, seventy-five years ago.

The $300 that Mrs. Getchell, the Sidney husband-poisoner, has earned while in Kennebec jail, will keep her in pin money during her life term at the state prison; but the further income or her industrious needle must accrue to the state.

A Harvard professor, who has visited the Maine coast this season with his wife and two children, is so much interested with what he has seen of Aroostook that he has recently applied to attorneys in Houlton, Meigs, Madigan and Madigan, for permission to erect a sportsmen's lodge on land which they control on the shores of Portage lake. He proposes to make the location the headquarters for tourists and sportsmen from without the state, and with others associated will build other lodges and place a small steamer on the lake next season. It will be their aim to make this locality a famous resort for tourists, hunters and fishermen.

At about 4.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon a serious trolley car collision nearly happened in State street, Bangor. The accident was narrowly averted by the presence of mind of the motorman, but a number of people jumped from the cars and several were bruised by falling. An Oldtown car, followed by a city car had just turned from Broadway into State street and was going at a good rate of speed when the motorman of the Oldtown car discovered another B. O. and O. car coming down the single track toward him and reversing rapidly. He stopped his car and reversed in order to run back to the double track which begins near Essex street. This caused his car to dart back upon the city car. In its career the motorman of this car appreciated the danger and reversed also, but people on the car began to jump, expecting that a collision was inevitable. Meanwhile, many on the middle Oldtown car had also leaped to the ground on seeing the rapid approach of the car from the rear, and were going at a good rate of speed when the motorman of the Oldtown car, suffered bruises on the face and much damage to his clothing by a fall.

Two Lives Saved.
Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result, everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such a relief, and these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at P. P. S. Gould's drug store, 177 Chestnut St., under Congress Square Hotel, Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

GILBERT'S

CITY GOVERNMENT.

Special Meeting Board of Mayor and Aldermen.

A special meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen was held yesterday noon.

Present: The Mayor, Aldermen Hiley, Kehoe and Howell.

The petition of David Murdoch to move a wooden building from 385 Kennebec street to Wilcox street by tackle and fall, and occupy three days in moving, was granted on condition that Murdoch give a bond to the city to pay all damages caused by the moving. The city electrician favored granting the desired permission.

The powder license of Houghton, Clark & Co., was renewed.

Petition of Scott Verrill to keep a fish market at 23 York street, was granted subject to the board of health's favorable report.

Licenses as victuallers were granted under the usual conditions to W. E. Sheafe; C. A. Coffin, 45-50 Portland Pier; S. H. Marston, F. E. Ochoate, Joseph Vonjik, 263 Middle street; Catherine W. Jenkins.

Subject to a favorable report from the committee permission was granted to erect new buildings to W. J. Murry, 113 Washington street; Halloran & Park, addition to storehouse, 52-54 Cross street; Southworth Brothers, dwelling, 111 Middle street; Fitzsimmons & Ryan, woodshed, 90 Cumberland street; G. E. Jordan, shed, 79 Parris street; Locke & Locke, addition to dwelling, corner Federal street and Fremont place; John W. Burrows, 38-40 Alder street.

The case of an insane woman was considered and she was ordered sent to the hospital at Augusta. Afterwards the board thought proper notice had not been given in the case and a hearing was ordered in the matter at 3.30 p. m.

The special meeting of the Aldermen was held yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

Absent, Alderman Hiley.

The matter to come before the board was the granting permission to send the insane person, whose case came up in the morning, to the hospital.

When notified by the messenger, Mr. Magowan, of the hearing, the woman cried, and said she wouldn't go to Augusta. She said the evening previous she was hysterical and she supposed she didn't know what she did, but she believed she jumped from the window.

Mr. Howell, of Ward 4 says she told him she didn't want to go to Augusta, but after inducement of the gentleman to whom she is engaged to be married, she agreed to go. Mr. Howell said she appeared perfectly sane.

Mr. Baker, secretary of the Board of Overseers, said that Dr. Pitcher advised that the patient should be put in the asylum.

Alderman Leighton asked Mr. Baker if he didn't think the Board of Aldermen was a little hasty in ordering her sent to the Asylum in the morning on the advice of one physician.

Mr. Baker said that there were three physicians signed the papers. He also said she had undergone an operation some time ago, after which she had an attack of insanity. She is subject to epileptic attacks and has to be given morphine. She is violent in her tendencies. She is a domestic by occupation.

Mr. Fagan asked whether any effort had been made by the overseers, or any one of them, to induce the girl to go to the hospital, and Mr. Baker said not to his knowledge.

Mr. Leighton said he had no doubt that the overseers were rather in a hurry in their morning's action in this case, and while he had no doubt the doctors' opinion was right in the case, he wanted to avoid any hasty action in future.

Dr. Hutchinson said that in her attacks the only thing that would bring the woman down was the application of ether. In her attacks she threatens to kill herself and other people. She ought to be put where she can be taken care of. She has always been opposed to going to the hospital, but she has no home, or money, and ought to be placed where she can be taken care of. It was admitted that the patient was now as willing to go to Augusta as she was before opposed.

Mr. Leighton moved that as the patient was now willing to go that the board adhere to their former action and that the papers be signed for the woman's commitment to Augusta, and it was so voted.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The Regular Meeting Yesterday a Very Brief One.

The regular monthly meeting of the school committee was held yesterday afternoon.

The Mayor absent.

Mr. Allan was elected chairman pro tem.

Mr. McGowan announced that the Evening school will open October 5th.

Mr. Allan reported that there is an overflow at the McLellan school of about thirty-five, and an extra teacher has been temporarily employed in the person of Miss Lowell.

Miss Jordan having left Jackson school to enter the state of matrimony, Miss Ballantyne was appointed teacher in her place temporarily.

There was no report from the other schools except a report from the High school of the election of Mr. Loker as a teacher.

Bills to the amount of $7,574.53 were approved.

Evening School.

The free public evening school of the city will begin its autumn and winter work at the Spring street school house, at 7.30 o'clock Monday next, and its sessions will be held Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. There will be classes of both sexes in reading, writing and arithmetic and some of the more advanced studies.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

Window Breakers Punished—Shall Hebrews Keep Open Shop on Sunday?—Thub Daher's Case—Other Tribulations.

Judge Robinson's court held an interesting session Monday morning. The community seemed in the preceding days to have been going to the dogs in a mild sort of way; and its troubles came up in the court room for regulation.

Small boys who have been too prodigal with pebbles attracted attention first. Harold Auburn, charged with throwing stones in the street, was the first of these offenders. Mrs. Agnes Moran told how he had broken a window of her house, and how she had previously suffered from stones thrown by the Auburn boy and others. Mr. E. P. Chase, who owns several houses in the regions frequented by the stone-throwing boys, also said that he could stand it no longer, and that an example must be made. Judge Robinson, after hearing the testimony gave the Auburn boy a salutary lecture, warning him and all other stone throwers that they must reform. Then he fined the boy $5 and costs.

Another small boy, James Thorn was charged with malicious mischief in having thrown a stone through a window. Mary Callahan, a pretty young miss of thirteen, testified that she saw Thorn throw the stone. He threw it at a boy named Atkins; and the stone missing Atkins went through the window of the house where she lived. Little Thomas Atkins, aged 8, at whom the stone was thrown, corroborated this testimony. It being evident that the Thorn boy, who was charged with malicious mischief in breaking the window, had not intended to break it when he threw the stone, a nol pro was had to be entered and the boy was discharged.

The most interest was occasioned by the cases against Marks Herman and Benjamin Press, two Hebrews, who were charged with keeping open shop on the Lord's Day. Press testified that he kept Saturday as Sunday and as he could not keep closed two days, he did business Sunday, having his bake shop open and sending around his bread cart. Herman in substance made the same statement. He had understood that it would be all right if he kept one day of the week as a day of rest; and he wished to test the case. So Judge Robinson continued the case until Wednesday.

Another case that had to be continued until Wednesday was that against Thub Daher, an Oriental who cannot speak English. Catherine Homdon, who according to the testimony of Elish Kabony, sent $100 into the East to bring Thub to this country, and afterwards gave him $50 to set him up in business, complained that Thub struck her, when she asked him to repay the money. Kabony said Thub merely pushed her. Thub being unable to speak for himself the case was continued until Wednesday.

Other cases disposed of were as follows: Sarah Anderson, intoxication, 30 days in city house of correction.

Martin Gorham, intoxication, $3 and costs, suspended.

Wm. H. Smith, intoxication, 30 days in county jail.

Michael L. Quigley, Clarence Morse Charles Shayler and Michael Geary were all fined $3 and costs for intoxication.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Saved From the Sea.

Wm. Calder's great spectacular melo drama "Saved from the Sea," that had such a remarkable run on the other side of the water, and has been produced to great houses in Boston and New York, was presented at Portland theatre last night.

The story of the play was printed in yesterday's edition and it included enough dramatic incidents to satisfy the greatest melodramatic connoisseur that patronizes the play house.

The great scene of the play is supposed to be the scaffold and trap, where the innocent hero, Dan, after being led forth to execution, falls to suffer the extreme penalty of the law, since the trap fails to work, and a respite is obtained. But while Dan is shown in the condemned cell and on the execution, the scaffold and trap are not exhibited but the incidents are narrated in the prison yard concluding with the prisoner staggering into the prison yard, pale and trembling. The other leading scenes, the deck of the Ocean Waif, the open sea after the explosion and the destruction of the bridge, are all good and were greeted with much enthusiasm.

The company is a very good one. Mr. Andrew Rosson plays the hero with much dash and energy, and was strongly effective in the powerful scenes, and not lacking in pathos in the more emotional ones. Miss Lander is very strong as Nancy. She is quiet and natural, giving great force thereby to the intense scenes in which she is engaged, and also, like Mr. Rosson, has a good deal of magnetic in her composition, especially in the pathetic situations. Messrs. Gilbert and Lang as Weaver and Salscher, the two heavy villains, were sufficiently villainous in make up and in manner to delight the audience greatly. Mr. Larson in the comedy part of Billy Snooks, was a capital Cockney, full of bright and taking sayings, and pleasing by his songs. Messrs. Medinger and Palmer, as Blake and Polly, were both effective.

At times the audience was as quiet as if in a church as they waited the climax of some of the sensational scenes, and the virtuous speeches received round on round of applause.

The audience was rather light in point of numbers. Three melo-dramas in succession is a little too much for any city Portland's size.

The Texas Steer.

That pleasantly satirical farce comedy, Hoyt's "A Texas Steer," will be given a performance at Portland theatre next Thursday evening, where it opens a two nights engagement, by what is promised as the best company that has yet appeared in the play. Hoyt has a faculty of going from the sublime to the ridiculous and more truisms are brought out in his works than by any other writer for the stage. In "A Texas Steer" the story of the life of office seekers as told by a colored applicant from the newly elected congressman's district is considered one of the cleverest things that has been seen on the stage in recent years.

The Bostonians.

We would call the attention of all who have not yet subscribed to the two performances of opera, contemplated by the Bostonians at City hall, Oct. 9th and 10th, that the subscription list at Stockbridge's will be withdrawn tomorrow night so that subscribers certificates can be exchanged Thursday morning at nine o'clock. The sale of seats will begin at the store Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Those who have not seen "Robin Hood" that charming opera of De Koven's, in which Eugene Cowles sings "The Old Crossbow" so finely, and Jessie Bartlett Davis makes such a dashing Allan O'Dale, will miss it if they do not seize the present opportunity. "In Mexico" is the opera with which the Bostonians will open the new uptown New York theatre next month. These operas will be beautifully staged and costumed with over seventy people employed, and a fine orchestra under Mr. Stadley.

Maccabees Concert.

The programme to be rendered by the Amaranth Tent, nights of Maccabees tonight, at Kotzschmar hall, will be a delightful one. The numbers have already been published. Admission will be by complimentary ticket.

Notes.

The Haydn Association's opening recital of last night, last evening at Kotzschmar hall. The "Wreck of the Hesperus" was rehearsed.

WHY CAN'T I BE WELL?

Must I Always be Weak and Sickly?

Serious Questions for Thousands of Sufferers. A Definite Answer from the Best Authority.

You are not in good health. There is a weakness, a pain, or a tired feeling, your blood is bad, your nerves are weak, or some organ in the body is out of order and you need building up. Don't neglect such a condition, for delay is dangerous.

You can get well and have perfect health just as well as not. Follow the advice of Mrs. F. Cullen, of 773 Grand ave., New Haven, Ct., who will tell you how she got well and just how you also can be cured.

"I was very weak and nervous and could not hold anything in my hands. I felt tired and nervous all the time, and had no ambition to do anything. In fact, I was nearly in my grave. I took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and it has done a world of good for me.

Mrs. F. CULLEN.

"I am now strong and able to do most anything. Dr. Greene's wonderful Nervura cured me, and I am sure it will help every man, woman or child who is weak and nervous."

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is a very giant among medicines, performing cures which seem little short of miraculous. You can make no mistake in trying it.

It is the prescription and discovery of Dr. Greene, of 24 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., the most successful specialist in nervous and chronic diseases, who gives free consultation, personally or by letter.

The weather today is likely to be stormy.

Portland, Sept. 29, 1896.

To introduce the new fall stock of Draperies, we shall begin a special sale, to-day, of about two hundred pairs of fine imported Muslin Curtains, (white) at a ridiculous price of $1.19 pair.

There are seven choice patterns in the lot, dainty figures and stripes. The curtains are two and a half yards long, full width and are finished with a broad ruffle of plain muslin around edge and bottom. They are laundered soft to hang gracefully, and are finished to go on a rod or to be suspended by hooks and rings from a pole.

It is the curtain bargain of the year. $1.19 the pair.

Our draperies buyers are back from New York and the complete new stock of Autumn Novelties in draperies and fabrics for upholstery is quite ready for your first inspection.

OWEN, MOORE & CO.

Illustrating Maine.

G. W. Morris, the publisher of artistic and beautiful books, has commenced on a work that will find a very large sale,
entitled "Maine, its Industries; its resources and advantages." There is no doubt that a work done well will fill a long felt want, as there never has been a work of this description published before. Mr.
Morris states that he has secured a large number of handsome photographs to be made into the copper plate engravings to illustrate the book. The book will be ably written by one of our best writers and will be issued about May, 1897.

Portland Theosophical Society.

The regular meeting of the Portland
Theosophical Society was held Sunday evening at its rooms, 65 Free street. The subject was "Theosophy and Spiritualism."
A part of an article by M. A.
Dixon was first read. The author was the editor of Light, a Spiritualistic publication, and therefore the Spiritualists themselves must accord some authority to what he says concerning the dogmatism and the infinite subdivision of sects among their rank.

Descriptions of the astral light and astral bodies, written by the late William Q. Judge, were read as an introduction to the explanations of the phenomena of the seance room, which will be given next Sunday. Theosophy freely admits that the phenomena are genuine,
but gives explanations very different from those of the Spiritualists. As these same explanations have been given by some of the "spirits" of the seance room, they are worthy of investigation even by those who have no idea of accepting them.

Those who would like to attend these meetings may obtain cards from the secretary, Miss Joyce Lee, who is always at the rooms Wednesday afternoons and evenings.

Yacht Club Smoke Talk.

There will be a smoke talk at the house of the Portland Yacht club this evening
when Mr. Henry Bangs Lewis, late special war correspondent of the Yoka-

After the supper, President E. C. Reynolds introduced first, State Committee-man E. Dudley Freeman.

Mr. Freeman said he accepted their greeting as expressive of their good will towards the state organization. Mr.
Freeman said he was proud to belong to the state machine, which had assisted in giving Thomas B. Reed 6000 plurality in Cumberland county, and the whole general ticket a magnificent vote. Denunciations of party machinery was usually made by two classes; those who don't know any better and those who do.
The party machinery is usually expressive of the sentiment of the rank and file of the party; and moves along with it.
Mr. Freeman expressed his appreciation of the work of the town and county committees. We might not again have so large a majority; but if a question of moral honesty should ever be brought before the people of Maine, they would respond as they had this year.

Carroll W. Morrill, Esq., secretary of the county committee was next called on. He spoke humorously of the great efficiency of the county committee in preventing the county from going Democratic. The office of county committeeman is one of precious few amenities.
This occasion was the first one he remembered in five years. In conclusion he thanked those present for their kindness in greeting the committee.

Owen T. Desnoes, Esq., of Brunswick, was next called on. He said that an occasion of this kind was very pleasant to the committee, as it showed that they had tried to carry out the wishes of the Republicans of the county. He had been a member of the county committee for ten years, and this was the first public recognition of this sort, which the committee had met. Speaking of the election, he said that there had this year been less outletting on the part of the voters than any year that he could remember.

Mr. Richard Cook, of the northern portion of the county, was called on but begged to be excused from making a speech.

Mr. J. T. Fickett, was introduced as one who had done much to change South Portland from 150 Democratic to 350 Republican. Mr. Fickett said he had taken an humble and peaceable part in the election. So far as he had worked in South Portland, he would say that he had done all he could and felt reasonably satisfied with the result. He had been a teacher in the region of the rolling mills for about twenty-five years, and had tried to instruct them in the ways they should go. By this instruction, and by the fact that he had walked in the right path himself, the results had been very excellent.

County Treasurer Daniel D. Cheney of Deering, was called on and responded briefly.

Chairman George H. Allan of the city committee, said that he thought Portland did a little in rolling up the great county majority. From 500 four years ago to the city plurality rose to over 9000.
President Libby of the Lincoln club,
said he appreciated the kind invitation to be present. The result of the election reflected great credit on the county committee. And the splendid result in this region foreshadowed a great Republican victory in November.

Judge Henry C. Peabody said he was glad to make an address on the life and public services of the county committee.
He fully concurred in the praise that had been showered upon them. The success that had crowned their efforts was a fitting reward of their work. The remarks of the speakers had recalled to him that he was the senior county officer.
For twenty years his name had adorned the ticket. It had become a chronic case with him. He appreciated the kindness of the Republican voters of the county. Judge Peabody also recalled the fact that in twenty years the Republican party in the county had come up from a minority to the great plurality of 6000.
This was due to the principles of the party.

Col. F. N. Dow, as a past president of the Portland club, was next called on.
He said that he had been interested in the speeches, and they had recalled the past to him, when Cumberland county had a full board of Democratic county officers, and when a plurality of 150 in the city of Portland was considered all that could be expected. The members of the county committee had always shown that they were Republicans for principle, and not for pelf. He believed it proper that such a testimonial should be given.
He said as to political corruption, that he had often been charged by the Democratic organ in the city with corruption, and some of the Republican papers were perfectly ready to see it done. One time he rode into the northern part of the county with so respectable a man as County Attorney Ardron W. Coombs.

And the Argus came out next morning and said Col. Dow rode up the county with nothing but a rum cask. Coombs did not get over it for a month. (Laughter). Col. Dow said he had been accused of buying voters in Harrison at $14 a head. But in all the years he had been acquainted with political matters, he never knew a dollar to be paid for an improper purpose.

After the meeting was concluded President Reynolds asked the members to remember that on the night of November election there would be a supper, and later, while the returns were being received, a luncheon.

The arrangements of the reception
which were made by Mr. F. H. King, were well carried out and contributed greatly to the pleasure of the affair.

EXTENSION OF CAPE ROAD.

Hearing on Proposed Location Held Yesterday in South Portland.

Yesterday afternoon in the town house
of South Portland occurred the hearing before the board of selectmen of that town on the petition for extension of the Portland and Cape Elizabeth electric road. There were only a few citizens present and no opposition was manifested to the granting of the proposed location. Hon. Clarence Hale and Superintendent Harry McLeod appeared in behalf of the electric road. The electric road asks for permission to build a single track line from the present line on the shore road up Angell street to the Cottage road, and then out to the junction of Cottage road with the shore road or to the town line. Considerable distance would have been saved by building directly out the Shore road, but as some of the citizens thought this street was too narrow for a track to be laid in, the electric road changed its original plan and will build out Angell street and then over the Cottage road, a distance of about 2100 feet, if the selectmen grant the desired permission. By going this way the company will also avoid many steep hills and will accommodate many more people. All of the authorities along the proposed extension are heartily in favor of the road. Superintendent McLeod said that work would begin on the new line just as soon as the permission is granted and as much of the line on the Shore road will be built this fall as possible.

It is very likely that the entire line over the Shore road will be ready for operation by the time travel begins next summer. The proposed track up Angell street will be built on the northwest side of the street and on the southerly side of the Cottage road. A turnout 600 feet in length has also been petitioned for,
and if granted will be located at the southerly end of Angell street. There is little doubt about the selectmen granting the proposed location at once as no opposition to the location has been expressed.

MACKEREL ARRIVE.

Two Schooners Get Good Catches—Other Fishing Notes.

There was a little boom in the mackerel
business Monday. The schooner Henry Margenthan, Capt. Andrew Smith, arrived at D. L. Fernald & Co.'s with 125 barrels of salt mackerel and schooner Sir Knight, Captain Jory, arrived at the same place with 175 barrels. Both fares were caught off Block Island.

The schooner Ethel Mand brought 60
barrels of herring from Wood Island.

The schooner Sylvia S. Noonan brought about 7000 fresh fish yesterday.

The schooner Ella M. Doughty, Captain Doughty, sailed yesterday fitted for winter fishing off shore. The Lilla B.
Fernald, Captain Levi Alexander, its fitting out and will start the last of the week.

HARBOR NOTES.

Things Seen and Heard on the Water Front.

Work on the Spring Point light was resumed again yesterday.

The schooner Jennie Hall, Captain Leighton, is loaded ready to start for Martinique.

The steamer Merrygoose came off the Marble wharf yesterday, and the schooner Henry P. Mason went on. The schooners D. Howard Spear and Nellie T. Morse are waiting to go on.

Sturtevant's wharf is undergoing extensive repairs. W. F. Bennett & Co., are doing the work.

The schooner Nellie T. Morse, well known in these waters, has been sold at auction in Delaware river for $6000.

When Uncle Sam's barge office men go out to greet a foreign vessel, they do it in style. Their boat has been painted, polished and varnished until it shines
beyond any other craft in the harbor.

The boatmen have done the work themselves.

CHARGED WITH SMUGGLING.

William H. Holmes, a Business Man of Eastport, Indicted by Federal Grand Jury.

The petit jury in the United States
Circuit Court came in at 8 p. m. yesterday and were excused until 10 a. m. today. It is expected that a smuggling case will be tried this forenoon. The grand jury, at its recent sitting, indicted William H. Holmes of Eastport, for smuggling. Mr. Holmes is a business man of Eastport, doing business as a dealer in fish and a sardine packer. He has a partner named Ellogg, who lives
on the British island of Campobello, which is very near Eastport. It is alleged that Mr. Holmes has been smuggling dry pollock, smoked herring and herring
box shoo over from Campobello.

The government has had a very active agent in the vicinity of Eastport of late,
and this case is one of the results of his efforts.

An officer has gone to Eastport after Mr. Holmes, and it is expected that he will arrive here this morning and go before the court this forenoon.
